WARSHIP KENTUCKY'S APPEAL.

Hark ye,
Ye naval experts,
Let me speak, though yet so young.
I would not that you frame me as
You frame my sister ships:
For there is that
In my great name demanding change.
Launch me,
When I am launched,
In water that is salt,
For water that is fresh
Kentucky disesteems.
Let all the decks
Which cover me
Be cold,
For those are they
Kentucky loves:
No turrets place about my form
Armed with those rifled guns,
But let hip pockets take their place,
With Colt's revolvers stuck therein:
Keep seagrass from my hull
When I'm adrift,
For Bluegrass
Is Kentucky's pride,
And that she floats in
To her chin.
No donkey engines run on me,
For I am used to thoroughbreds,
And when they run
Kentucky's glad.
When I am flagged
Give me three stacks
Of Red and White and Blue,
And let me fly them at the fore
And victory is mine.
These are Kentucky's colors,
And by them
United will she stand.
Now, hark ye, experts,
This or naught:
When you do christen me
Kentucky, sirs, let
No champagne be used,
Nor other deadly drug,
Nor fatuous and vapid stuff:
But christen me
With juice of corn
In ancient, unctuous, amber gold:
Old Bourbon Whisky, sirs,
So mellow in its age,
So fragrant in perfume,
So smooth in liquid grace
That patriots would weep
To lose a drop in any but this sacred cause.
Thus will the name you give me fit:
And for that name
I'll make a record on the seas
Not less than now it is
Upon the land!

If asked the question, "Have you got a stomach?" it would be safe on general principles to answer "Yes." But, if you are sure of it; that is, if you ever feel any distress after eating, or any pains of whatever description in the region of the stomach, you have got something more than an ordinary stomach; in other words, you have got a diseased stomach. The stomach is a powerful muscle, and the proper remedy for a tired muscle is rest. Try the Shaker Digestive Cordial, for this product not only contains digested food, which will nourish the system without any work on the part of the diseased organs, but it aids the digestion of other foods as well. You can test its value in your case for the trifling sum of 10 cents. Sample bottles at this price are carried by all druggists.

After a Lingering Illness, He Passed Away Tuesday Afternoon.

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," illustrated.

Send your next order for Printing to THE LEDGER office. We do work cheap, but not cheap work.
